SENATOR BYRD'S STAND

Virtually all Virginians will laud the stand taken by United States Senator Harry Flood Byrd demanding greater concrete results from the defense program, and demanding that [illegible] ration clamp down on [illegible] and promotors of endless strikes in defense industry.

We have found sentiment in Appomattox to be that John L. Lewis is a menace to America's defense of its democratic way of life, and that there is no longer an excuse to put up with [illegible]. The fight of labor for a living wage, is one thing, and he campaign to take advantage of the defense program to create a closed shop situation in industry is something else. With the former there is genuine sympathy, but with the latter, there is overwhelming disagreement.

Senator Byrd has the reputation of being one of the nation's soundest thinkers. The people of Appomattox will back his judgment.

WHY SO COCKSURE?

We are frankly amazed at the cocksureness of the American people that Hitler will be defeated. Many admit that it may take a long time, perhaps another five years, and perhaps we shall have to send troops across the water before a victory is won... but they are cocksure that somehow, someway, Hitler will be defeated.

We share the hope, but not the cocksureness. Hitler is much stronger today than at any point in German history. And he will contine to gain in strength for several years. His military manpower has scarcely been tapped, despite the losses in the Russian campaign. And in military equipment and foodstuffs, he is a position to command the supplies and the labor of all Europe.

Along what path is the victory of which we are so sure? It is no easy path. It will call for a much greater effort than any made by living generations. We are not making that effort now. Our people simply must arouse themselves to a greater realization of the danger. We must be told the complete bitter truth, we must be told of the SWEAT and the BLOOD ahead of US.

Words will not defeat Hitler. Nor will the make-shift defense efforts now being used. And, equally as important, the entire attitude of the American people must be changed. Unless we arouse ourselves from the smug sense of cocksureness that NOBODY CAN LICK AMERICA, we are in for a heck of a licking.

SIN AND ITS CONSEQUENCES

LESSON TEXT—Galatians 6:7, 8; I John 1:5-2:2.
GOLDEN TEXT—If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.—I John 1:9.

Sin is an appalling reality, hideous and horrible in itself, and bearing with it the gravest consequences both in this life and in the life to come. Man does not find it pleasant to face that fact, and so he makes light of sin and even may go so far as to deny its existence. Obviously such an expedient does nothing to solve the difficulty or to meet the gnawing distress of a heart facing and fearing the judgment of God.

Far better to meet the reality of it, admit its awfulness, and seek God's way of full deliverance. Sin, which came into the world when man listened to Satan and disobeyed God in the Garden of Eden, has gone on to mar and to mark all mankind. We note that

I. Sin Brings Corruption (Gal. 6: 7, 8).

Seedtime is followed by harvest. This is the law of nature, the law of God. The farmer who sowed wheat in the spring looked for wheat when the harvest time came. The same principle holds in the spiritual realm. Just as the one who sows to the Spirit reaps eternal life, the one who sows to the flesh reaps corruption, and death.

A life of self-indulgence (which is sowing to the flesh) brings moral decay. The weakened will yields to desire, and it "bringeth forth sin: and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death" (James 1:14, 15). This death is spiritual, bringing separation from God, a loss of fellowship and communion with Him. Spiritual death as well as physical death came upon mankind through Adam's sin.

II. Sin Loves Darkness (I John 1:5-7).

There is not a bit of darkness in God. He is light. When Jesus came into the world, He came as the Light of the World. But "men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved" (John 3:17-21).

The corollary of that truth is that a man who says he has fellowship with God, but continues to walk in the darkness, brands himself a liar (v. 6). Compare Revelation 21:27-28 for what God thinks of liars.

The light still shines, and the one who is walking in darkness has only to step over into the light (v. 7) where he will find fellowship with all God's people and know the cleansing of the blood of the Son of God.

III. Sin Is an Undeniable Fact (I John 1:8-10).

It seems impossible that a man who knows himself and knows the life he lives would ever deny sin, for it is one of the most evident of all facts. Yet men have denied it, or sought to explain it away, calling it error, or a "fall upward," or a step in man's development, or the evidence of man's self-consciousness and desire to learn.

There is no hope for a man as long as he assumes such an attitude, for he not only lies himself but he makes God a liar. He denies the truth of God's Word about sin, makes meaningless or wicked God's dealings with sin, and reveals that God's Word is not in him. Those who make such statements declare that they do not belong to God and do not accept His Word. It is evident that they ought never to be permitted to teach such things in the church, or in the name of Christianity.

IV. Sin Calls for a Saviour (I John 2:1-6).

Christ the propitiation, the mercy seat covering for our sins, is the only Saviour. He paid the price and made it possible for God to be just and at the same time a justifier of the ungodly. The sinner needs such a Saviour.

Sin in the life of the believer also calls for a Saviour, one who will cleanse us (1:9) and who will in His own blessed name plead our cause "if we sin." He is our Advocate (2:1) pleading His righteousness in our behalf when we do fail.

This does not mean that we may then become indifferent or careless about sin. If we say we know Him and do not keep His commandments, we lie about our professed relationship to Him. The mark of a true child is a spirit of obedience.

God's children prove their love to Him by keeping His commandments. Talking about our devotion to Him, giving our service for Him, or sacrificing for His cause mean nothing if we do not obey Him. We only pile evidence upon evidence of our untruthfulness by making claims and doing things which are negated by our disobedience.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

Hon. Benjamin Muse, Republican candidate for Governor, is laboring hard to enlighten the people of Virginia along political lines, and in trying to arouse them out of their political apathy and get them interested and enlightened enough to make him Governor of Virginia. He, like many others during their desire for office, makes a mighty issue of the poll tax and many voters law, but there is such a great space of time between the Gubernatorial elections we dumb voters slip back into our old ruts, not being taught the evils that exist but a short, while once every four years. Mr. Muse says it is undemocratic having a poll tax; but we bought the majority rule was democratic, and with all the agitation made by those at election time for abolition of the poll tax a majority of the voters fail to heed the earnest plea of the candidates to elect members of the Legislature who will vote for repeal of the poll tax and we also thought the taxes collected from the poll taxes went to the support of the schools. If that is abolished, what does Mr. Muse suggest levying to replace that loss to the schools?

Order of Publication.

VIRGINIA:

In the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Court of Appomattox County, on the 18th day of September, 1941.

C. K. Hunter, trading as Hunter Lumber Company, ... Plaintiff Against
James M. Hamlet, Frank J. Hamlet, Willie B. Hamlet, Martha Jane Grimes, Ada Bell Jenkins, et als. Defendants.

CARDUI

We have been led to believe by the statements of Mr. Muse and other candidates who have urged abolition of the poll tax that all persons old enough to vote, and did not vote were deprived of their vote on account of this law, but now Mr. Muse comes out with the astounding statement that in the last election only about one-fourth of those eligible voted, and as over 100,000 votes were polled, then, it would seem that nearly 400,000 preferred not to go to the polls after having paid that iniquitious poll tax. Mr. Muse tells us of the vast amount of fraud carried on in the system of voting by mail; we ignorant voters would like some more light on the subject than a general charge of fraud. We thought if a voter had his ballot fixed, put in the ballot box and counted for the candidate he wished, that would not be fraud. We are too ignorant to take in a blanket charge of fraud, if Mr. Muse knows as well of the fraud, let him name the particular cases, who the ones were who committed the fraud, and have the voters in question witness them stating that on account of fraud on the part of the election officials their votes were not cast and counted for the candidate they wished to vote for.

In 1901 and 1902 the Constitutional Convention met, and we thought the main object was to have an abridged electorate. In that convention were John W. Daniel, John Goode, William E. Cameron, H. D. Flood, Alfred P. Thom, Carter Glass, Joe Wisor, Henry C. Stuart, John Garland Pollard, William Gordon Robertson, Walter Watson and lots of others might be mentioned. We thought these men were outstanding in intellect, vision, integrity and political experience. Now, under the teachings of Mr. Muse and a few others we find the members of the above-mentioned Constitutional Convention a lot of cheap politicians who placed upon us the shackles of the iniquitious poll tax. Mr. Muse a few years ago held office under this poll tax law, but knowing so well the fraud under which he held office and the depraved old Democratic party, he left it and joined the Republican party which, judging from the size of the vote cast, must be composed only of the pure and holy. And now after all the pleading from these self-righteous politicians for us to repent of our political sins, on the 4th of November I expect we will all be found leading the same old sinful life and will elect for Governor a member of the old party of fraud, the undemocratic Democratic party.
